

SNRS research awards

By: Robin Bartlett

This is the peer reviewed version of the following article:

Bartlett, R. (2014). SNRS research awards. Research in Nursing & Health, 37 (5), 357.

which has been published in final form at <https://doi.org/10.1002/nur.21615>. This article may be used for non-commercial purposes in accordance with Wiley Terms and Conditions for Use of Self-Archived Versions.

Abstract:

It is the mission of The Southern Nursing Research Society (SNRS) to disseminate research findings, to help nurses and nursing students to develop as researchers, and to help promote nursing as a scientific discipline. One way that SNRS achieves its mission is to recognize exemplary research efforts by its members through its annual awards. The Society is pleased to announce the recipients of the 2014 awards.

Keywords: award announcements | Southern Nursing Research Society | scholarship and academic awards

Article:

It is the mission of The Southern Nursing Research Society (SNRS) to disseminate research findings, to help nurses and nursing students to develop as researchers, and to help promote nursing as a scientific discipline. One way that SNRS achieves its mission is to recognize exemplary research efforts by its members through its annual awards. The Society is pleased to announce the recipients of the 2014 awards.

Early Science Investigator Award

Jing Wang from the University of Texas Health Science Center at Houston

Research in Nursing & Health Authorship Award

Anne E. Norris from the University of Central Florida

Distinguished Researcher Award

Alison Trinkoff from the University of Maryland

Mid-Career Award

Sharron Docherty from Duke University

Researcher in Minority Health Award

Sharon D. Horner from the University of Texas at Austin

D. Jean Wood Nursing Scholarship Award

Patricia Kinser from Virginia Commonwealth University, for her paper entitled, “Major depressive disorder and measures of cellular aging: An integrative review.”

Student Poster Awards

Christina Thompson from the University of Kentucky, who received first place for her poster entitled, “Examining the Impact of Anxiety and Prenatal BMI on Preterm Birth.”

Sara Tomaso from Emory University, who received second place for her poster entitled, “The Influence of Exercise on Physical and Psychological Function of Family Caregivers of Persons with Heart Failure,” and Niel Peterson from the University of Virginia, who received third place for his poster entitled, “Incline to Believe? Novel Methods of Measuring Sedentary Behavior.”

Robin Bartlett, PhD, RN
SNRS Director of Awards
University of North Carolina at Greensboro
Email: robin_bartlett@uncg.edu