

Take the shot: Message from the president - Recipients of the 2015 SNRS annual awards

By: Robin Bartlett

This is the peer reviewed version of the following article:

Bartlett, R. (2015). Take the shot: Message from the president - Recipients of the 2015 SNRS annual awards. Research in Nursing & Health, 38 (4), 254-256.

which has been published in final form at <https://doi.org/10.1002/nur.21669>. This article may be used for non-commercial purposes in accordance with Wiley Terms and Conditions for Use of Self-Archived Versions.

Abstract:

The Southern Nursing Research Society offers a number of annual award opportunities to its members. The 2015 awards were presented at the annual meeting in Tampa, Florida in February. This year Elizabeth J. Corwin received the Distinguished Researcher Award; Ann L. Horgas received the Mid-Career Researcher award; Jeanne Alhusen received the Early Science Investigator Award; Jane Dimmitt Champion received the Research in Minority Health Award; and Karen Rice was given the Clinical Researcher Award.

Keywords: award announcements | Southern Nursing Research Society | scholarship and academic awards

Article:

The Southern Nursing Research Society offers a number of annual award opportunities to its members. The 2015 awards were presented at the annual meeting in Tampa, Florida in February. This year Elizabeth J. Corwin received the Distinguished Researcher Award; Ann L. Horgas received the Mid-Career Researcher award; Jeanne Alhusen received the Early Science Investigator Award; Jane Dimmitt Champion received the Research in Minority Health Award; and Karen Rice was given the Clinical Researcher Award.

Two awards were given based on submitted papers. Valerie Lander McCarthy received the D. Jean Wood Nursing Scholarship Award for her paper entitled “Promoting self-transcendence and well-being in community-dwelling older adults: A pilot study of a psychoeducational intervention” (McCarthy, Bowland, Ling, Rudd-Sarfin, & Connelly, 2015), and Bonnie Mowinski Jennings received the Research in Nursing and Health Authorship Award for the paper she authored with colleagues, entitled “Turning over patient turnover: An ethnographic study of admissions, discharges, and transfers” (Jennings, Sandelowski, & Higgins, 2013). The Society also grants the SNRS/John A. Hartford Foundation Geriatric Research Award to an individual whose established program of research has enhanced the practice of geriatric nursing in the southern region.

To learn more about the awards, visit <http://www.snrs.org/awards>. Consider nominating yourself or a colleague for 2016! The deadline is October 1, 2015.

References

McCarthy, V. L., Bowland, S., Ling, J., Rudd-Sarfin, K. & Connelly, J. (2015). Increasing self-transcendence and well-being in community-dwelling older adults: A pilot study of a psychoeducational intervention. Retrieved from: <https://www.nursinglibrary.org/vhl/handle/10755/344432>.

Jennings, B. M., Sandelowski, M., & Higgins, M. K. (2013). Turning over patient turnover: An ethnographic study of admissions, discharges, and transfers. Research in Nursing & Health, 36, 554–566. doi: 10.1002/nur.21565