

Creative Collaboration, Exhibition & Book

A view through the Indigenous lens.

Tonya Holy Elk Locklear
and
Margie Beth Labadie
2017

Upcoming
Summer Exhibition
June 9-Sept 20, 2017

Art For Purchase
at

Creative Collaboration, Exhibition & Book
A view through the Indigenous lens.

Earth Women Arts

Women of the Red Earth

Unheard Histories of Native Americans
A Visual-Literary Exhibition
Tanya Holy Elk Locklear
Margie Beth Labadie
The Little Arkansas Lee

Women of the Red Earth
is an illustrated-literary collaboration of newly written, unheard histories of Native Americans.
Tanya Holy Elk Locklear
Margie Beth Labadie
Illustrations by Margie Beth Labadie (Arikaree-Lee)

Women of the Red Earth
This is a cross-cultural, literary and visual arts project that promotes healing and positive relationships between Native Americans and non-Native Americans through strong words and powerful images. Locklear's original writings are illustrated by Labadie's original visual interpretations.
The collaboration results create awareness among and between Native and non-Native Americans to see and hear each other in new ways.
It is the intention of Earth Women Arts to allow the reader to experience the histories and the experiences that Native Americans continue, and will have today, through an indigenous lens.

In Your Presence
We Are
They Know I'm NDN
Healing Mother Earth
The Beauty of Silence

Upcoming Summer Exhibition June 9-Sept 20, 2017
Art For Purchase at EarthWomenArts.com

Creative Collaboration, Exhibition & Book A view through the Indigenous lens.

Troye Hole Elk Lashua
and
Marge Bird Lakota
2017

Upcoming
Summer Lecture Series
June 26-28, 2017
Art For Purchase
EarthWomenArts.com

